

What do these top producers have in common other than success?

THEY USE BACK ROOM TECHNICIAN®.

"Is BRT worth what it costs?
It's worth a lot more."

Marvin Feldman, CLU, ChFC
Former President MDRT

"I'd still buy it if it were three times the cost."

Richard Means
CFP®, CLU, FNU

"It's the most valuable software I use."

Douglas Jones, CLU, ChFC

"With Back Room Technician,
I don't have to sell...the right
answers float to the top."

Melissa Shaw, CFP®

"I can't imagine my practice without it!"

Chuck Ebersole
CFP®, CLU ChFC

As a business person and entrepreneur, you have to make every dollar and every minute count. That's why Back Room Technician (BRT) is so prized by industry top producers. It saves time and improves results.

BRT is unlike any financial planning program you've ever seen. It is the only one in the industry to combine financial planning, client education and point-of sale presentations in a single application.

BRT has eleven goals-based planning modules covering your clients' every need. And over 500 different concept pieces, articles and presentations on today's most popular planning products, topics and strategies.

So easy to use, you and your staff can be up and running in minutes. So fast and friendly you'll be assembling professional, personalized client presentations in minutes instead of hours. And BRT is affordable: about half the price you would pay for similar value from competing programs.
